Upcoming Events

11/12/19 PTF Meeting 5:30PM
11/13/19 Celebration of Learning 5:30-6:30
11/25/19 Thanks-For-Giving Concert 6PM

Thanks-For Giving Concert

Our annual Thanks-For Giving Concert will be on the evening of Monday, November 25 at Peacham Congregational Church. We will rehearse in the church in the morning, and the show is at 6:00 p.m. To help the evening show run smoothly, students are asked to arrive by 5:45 if possible. I look forward to seeing you there! ~Kevin Colosa/Mr C

Climate Survey

There have been only 2 more responses to the climate survey since last week. We now have had 24 parent/guardian responses. Thank you to those of you who have participated, this feedback is very valuable to our school and staff. I am hopeful that those of you who have not responded yet will take a moment to complete the survey. The survey is completely anonymous and you have until November 22nd to complete it. Here is the link:

Thank you!

Friday Notes

Dear Peacham School Families,

We enjoyed a great week of school. Teachers participated in a professional learning opportunity about best teaching practices and planning for co-teaching during Tuesday's Early Release. Many of our students are excited that snow is part of our lives for the foreseeable future; please make sure your child comes to school prepared with snow-pants, a winter coat, gloves/mittens, and snow boots.

Celebration Of Learning/Math Night

Please find the enclosed information on our Celebration of Learning and Family Math Night that we are having this coming Wednesday the 13th. We are really hoping to have a large turnout. Spread the word!

STJ Performance & Permission Slip

You should also find a permission slip in your child's Friday Folder to attend a performance of the Little Mermaid during the school day on Wednesday 11/13. Our whole school plans to attend.

I hope you all enjoy the weekend with your families!

My Best,
Ashley
