Thanks-For Giving Concert

We had a wonderful concert right before our Thanksgiving break. Once again, our PES Community filled the church and our students gave a wonderful performance!

Friday Notes

Dear Peacham School Families,

I hope you all enjoyed a restful Thanksgiving break with your families last week. Students and staff returned with lots of energy and we have had a terrific week. If you did get a chance to talk with your child last week about their experience with the Mobile Planetarium on Tuesday 11/26, please ask them; it was a fabulous experience for everyone!

Guidance News

Hi PES community,

When I first began at PES, I created a website to make information about our school counseling program easily accessible. I wanted to make all of you aware of this site, if you are not already, as one of my goals this year is to continue to increase collaboration and communication. Please view our guidance website (<https://peacham-guidance-department.site123.me>) for more information about services, resources, and our school counseling program. You will find that I have added a new blog with information about our current small groups and what we have worked on this year to date.

I will also begin to send out a monthly newsletter with information about what we are learning in groups, topics of interest, and awareness dates. I am looking for your feedback about these newsletters and what topics would be helpful and relevant for you. As always, please feel free to reach out if you have any questions, comments or suggestions.

Thank you,
Adrianna Watrobski, School counselor

PAL Half Day

PAL will be offering childcare for our half day next Wednesday 12/11. If you would like your child to attend, please contact Heather Smires to sign them up! ~palearning19@gmail.com
